Human trafficking is happening everywhere

Human trafficking and modern slavery happen everywhere in the world, every day. Through intelligence-led prevention, STOP THE TRAFFIK collects and analyses data on human trafficking patterns across the globe to disrupt human trafficking.

We work across sectors including finance, business, government and with local communities to disrupt human trafficking systematically. We develop geotargeted campaigns to share intelligence into vulnerable communities. Through innovative technology we are changing the environment to be high-risk and low-profit for traffickers and equipping people in communities to become more resilient.

The future is predictive

- Data sharing will determine more routes, trends and hotspots
- Technology will predict the next vulnerabilities before they happen
- Together, we will STOP THE TRAFFIK

STOP THE TRAFFIK
PEOPLE SHOULDN'T BE BOUGHT & SOLD

Our work and impact

- 10+ countries in which we ran geotargeted campaigns and activities across Europe, North-America, Africa and Asia
- 40+ analysts and researchers are collecting and analysing intelligence to build a global picture of human trafficking
- 50+ pieces of unique intelligence collected through campaigns and shared with partners to disrupt trafficking
- 150+ partner organisations working with us to prevent trafficking in their communities
- 6,000,000+ people reached through global campaigns on social media
